The mmittee makes the following appeal

'As you are no doubt aware, Dalbeattie responded nobly and generously to all calls made throughout the war. Our recruiting records are an honor to the town, and we are justly proud of the achievements of our sons and daughters, both on land and at sea, during the whole period of the war. The heavy death toll already referred to speaks for To erect a fitting permanent memorial to the fallen is not merely a duty but a proud privilege, and, as the war was won by united effort on the part of the allies and of all classes o the community, so we are hopeful that by the united efforts of all Dalbeatticnians, both at home and abroad, memorial may be provided which will be in some degree worthy of our noble dead." Dalbeattie, as all former residents of that place will recall, has less than 4,000 population, and its record of 121 dead is very good indeed.

Forces Seeing Many Sights. Arthur MacDonald writes his mother, Mrs. N. A. MacDonald, of some very in-teresting visits he has had in France since the close of warfare, and he in-forms her that he expects to be home in May or June. His letter is as follows: February 23, 1919.

Dear Mother: I got back from Paris esterday and I am well satisfied with my trip. I enjoyed every minute I was there. Two of the boys that came back Wednesday evening, March 19, at 7:30 with us left for England on 14 days leaves this morning, so I went down and sent a cable to you for £20, which will come to $100 or very near it. I should be getting away this week, for we all came back from London at the same time last August. I have about $300 oming to me but they call it deferred ay and am not supposed to get it until am discharged. Some of the boys have been able to draw on it though but I wanted to make sure, that is why cabled for the £20 to be sent to he Bank of Montreal, London. I figure that if that cable comes through and I can draw a little of that $300 I will go o Ireland and see what the shamrock looks like. I hope it will be different than England, Scotland and France, for they seem to think a Canadian soldier a young millionaire. I made the best of my time while I was in Paris and saw as much as I could during the short stay had there. We went out to Malmaison where Napoleon and Josephine lived, and there were a great many beautiful things o be seen there. We also went to Ver sailles and saw the palace in which Louis XIV. and Louis XV. lived. A person could not imagine the richness of it. We uld not get out to the garden and park a front of the palace, as the ground was so soft. In fact, it rained nearly every day while we were there. Some f the rooms there contain pictures, tapstries and vases that are priceless.

athedral, which I think is the largest in he world, the St. Surplace cathedral which has the largest pipe organ in the world, it has something like 7,000 pipes and we also visited the church of Servais, which was hit on Good Friday by a shell from the long range gun and killed 120 people. There are still blood stains on the floor.

Where Napoleon's tomb is, in Les Inalides, there is some great marble carv ng and also in the Louvre, which is ig museum. We went to the grand pera and the marble work there is sure great sight. The inside of that theatre s one of the most beautiful things I ever saw. We also went to the Alhambra heatre and the Gaumont Picture Palace The great war painting at the Panthe on La Guerre is one of the best thing o see there. We were over by the Eiffel ower, which is 994 feet high, and at the spot where Clemenceau was shot. d man is holding up pretty well but see by the paper that he has had too many visitors. The next letter you get from me may be from London or some where in Ireland. At present we are upposed to go back on the tail end of the 2d division. They will be starting o leave France in a couple of weeks. really don't expect to get home before May or the first of June anyway, for hings are moving very slowly.
